Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

This one story brick structure was originally constructed as a gas station. Additions were made to the building when it was converted to a tire recapping facility soon after WWII. The most noticeable features of the building are the service bays: two on the front of the building, three on the 43rd Ave, side of the building. There is a diagonal entry way.

For the past 37 years, the building has been used as an auto body repair shop; during this period an addition was made to the rear of the building. Signs painted on the front and side of the building ("Hyattsville Auto Body") apparently date from the early years of its present use. Another alteration to the building is the replacement of glass windows on the corner of the building with plywood inserts,

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

The historic uses of this building (gas station and tire recapping) as well as its present use, are illustrative of the past and present dominance of automobile related facilities along this section of Rt. 1/Rhode Island Ave. Since 1950 the building has been owned by the same family and operated as an auto body shop. The property has recently been acquired by the County.

This building is scheduled for demolition by Prince George's County within a few months.
